Inside, sunlit bedrooms with ensuite baths, soft neutral interiors, and breezy common spaces create a restful rhythm of their own. ~ Immersive Experiences

At Anchorage, each day takes on the rhythm of the backwaters. Start with meditation or yoga on the deck, followed by an unhurried outdoor breakfast under swaying palms. Afternoons lend themselves to fishing trips with locals, a shaded high tea, or a picnic on the lawns. As evening falls, gather for a cosy BBQ by the water, lanterns glowing, or simply watch the sunset boats drift across the horizon. From here, it's easy to slip away to Cherai Beach for a swim, or explore the Portuguese Fort and Pallipuram Church, both steeped in history. A short drive takes you into Fort Kochi, where Chinese fishing nets rise against the sunset sky, offering a glimpse into Kochi's living heritage. These experiences, rooted in place, make every stay at Anchorage both restful and deeply connected.

Evenings are made for grilled seafood, peppery fried meats, or a quiet barbecue by the backwaters, along with homemade wine. High tea finds its place on the shaded veranda or garden, served with light snacks and homemade treats.
